THINK ALLIES ARE IN PERIL OF ENVELOPMENT TO EAST OF PARIS

WHEN BATTLE IS RESUMED IT WILL BE BIGGEST YET

Three Combined Armies Have Driven French Center Back from Meuse

REFORM TO MEET ATTACK

Every Effort Being Made to Strengthen Line Before Germans Strike Again

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Sept. 5.—That the allied armies are in grave danger of being cut in two and surrounded is feared here. That is the real reason why the Germans have temporarily swept to the eastward of Paris with the main columns of their right wing. The French-British left wing, terribly harassed, has fallen back on the reserves, and every effort is being made to strengthen the line before the Germans strike again. The Germans themselves have felt the effort of their rapid southward dash, and are reported today to be bringing up fresh troops from the rear before beginning the third phase of the great battle that has now lasted for nearly three weeks.

Three combined armies, which crossed the Meuse at Stenay, have driven the French center back for a considerable distance and it is evident that when hostilities are resumed it will be on a scale eclipsing anything up to the present and that the Germans will make a supreme effort to compel a decisive conflict with the allies assailed from all sides.

VACATION DAYS FOR COUNTY EMPLOYEES ENDED ON THE FIRST

Court house clerks and officials yawned, drew their arms towards the ceiling and looked at the clock at noon today, then quickly swung their chairs back in place and remembered.

The court house has been closed Saturday afternoon during the months of July and August, as is the custom each year, and employees of the county have had vacations.

Many have had two week vacations during these months and these are all back on the job.

GERMANS HAVE PASSED FORTS OF FRENCH DEFENSE

Have Wasted No Time in Sieges but Bottled Up Garrisons and Gone Ahead

ADVANCE KEPT UP NIGHT AND DAY

Commissary in Good Shape and Huge Transport Train Repairs the Wrecked Bridges

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Circumstantial stories received here today from the fighting zone in France all emphasize that the Germans have avoided any serious attempt on the chief fortifications. In most instances they have passed them by, leaving a strong force behind to hold the garrison. The German advance is declared to have continued night and day, the troops utilizing to the utmost the moonlight and resting briefly, when not fighting, in the heat of the day.

Country Devastated Behind the Germans is a devastated country. Everything in the way is simply wiped out. The villages and even some fair sized cities have been destroyed, simply by being caught between the artillery fire of the armies. As the allies retreat they dynamite tunnels, road bridges and everything that might aid in the German advance, but the latter speedily repair the essentials with what is probably the greatest transport train that was ever gotten together.

The stories of the failure of the German commissary are untrue. It is working in good shape, the various regiments carrying their portable field kitchens with them on automobiles. Automobiles are also used to bring up all manner of field supplies.

German Loss 200,000

Various estimates of losses are printed by the newspapers here, but none is authentic. The Daily Mail correspondent at Gisors, France, declares that a moderate estimate of the German losses to date would be 20 per cent of the total engaged as compared with a trifle more than eight per cent for the allies. He says that he believes the Germans have lost fully 200,000 men to date.

The Daily Mail in recording a conversation between one of its staff correspondents in the field and a wounded soldier, says the latter declared that the supply of German troops seemed absolutely inexhaustible. He is quoted as declaring that the more Germans were killed the more there seemed to be in the lines.

Silas Green Who Comes from Hokah, Travels Over City Streets and Defies the Police

PAYS BUT A NOMINAL FINE

"Fifteen and Costs" Is Penalty Administered to Man Who Had Been Warned Before

Speeding at over forty miles an hour, Silas Green, Hokah, Minn., was deterred in his reckless course about the city last night only when Police Chief J. B. Webber, in the department auto, pulled a revolver and fired two shots over Green's head.

Green had been warned before against reckless driving here and while heavy punishment was anticipated only a $15 fine and a lecture were administered by Judge Edward Cronon.

Felix Novak, driver for Joseph Hirt, taxi liveryman, paid a similar fine for exceeding the speed limit.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—President Wilson this afternoon issued an executive order authorizing the navy department to take over one wireless station, probably Tuckerton, N. J., and operate it. Code messages will be transmitted from this station only, and with the proviso that the government officials understand the code.

CHINA WILL TAKE NO HAND IN WAR

Not to Interfere in Japanese-German Operations

JAP DIET CHEERS WAR NEWS

Minister of Foreign Affairs

Says Are Under Obligations to United States

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5.—The Chinese government has issued orders to the Chinese commanding officers in the vicinity of Kiao Chou that the Chinese troops are not to interfere with the operations of either Japan or Germany. It is stated that strict neutrality must be observed.

TOKIO, Sept. 5.—That Japan generally endorses the war with Germany was made very evident at the special session of the diet today. Every statement regarding the war was wildly cheered.

Premier Okuma, in opening the session announced that an extraordinary war budget must be voted to permit the continuation of the offensive operations against Germany. He then said: "The army and navy are now doing their full duty in a manner that all Japanese may well be proud of."

In the lower house Minister of Foreign Affairs Baron Kato explained that Japan participated in the war at the invitation of England. In the course of his speech he referred to the friendship between Japan and the United States and said that Japan was under renewed obligations to the United States for the manner in which it was representing the Japanese interests in both Germany and Austria.

INDIAN TROOPS ARE CROSSING CANADA TO EUROPEAN WAR ZONE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 5.—Twenty-six train loads of Bengalese enroute from India to English relief in the war zone, have crossed Canada since last Sunday and a total of seventy-five will pass through Winnipeg before the movement is completed, according to men arriving from Winnipeg this morning. Censorship forbids the publication of the facts of dispatching them, say the men.

The facts, as related by the men arriving here, corroborate the statements of Premier Asquith at the Guild hall meeting yesterday. It is said there has been almost a constant passage of troop trains, apparently bound for transports at the eastern coast. Rumors prevalent in Winnipeg, are that many Russians will be moved across Canada to the war zone, along with the contingent of three thousand Australians and New Zealanders.

"We are not allowed to publish anything," is a message that slipped through the censor in answer to inquiry.

URGE GORDON FOR MEMBERSHIP ON THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

WILL ATTEND THE CONVENTION

Conservative Here to Have Voice in Framing of Platform on Which Philipp Will Run

Attorney George H. Gordon, La Crosse, former United States district attorney for the western district of Wisconsin, is being boomed by local Philipp men for membership of the Republican state central committee.

Mr. Gordon is now a member of the committee selected at the Philipp convention in Madison several weeks ago and his name, it is understood, will be presented to the platform convention at Madison, September 15, as a representative of this section of the state.

John Elliott, president of the local Karel club is being talked of as a member of the democratic state central committee to succeed John C. Burns, this city, an Aylward advocate.

Mr. Elliott yesterday denied that he had considered the question. (Continued on Page 6)

MOUNTAINEERS ARE STRANDED IN CITY

MODERN TRANSPORTATION MARVEL

A Lifetime in the Woods They Are Shipped Over Railways Until Funds Are Exhausted

Schooled in "The Great Outdoors" and unequipped to master modern means of transportation, a family of Ozark mountaineers was stranded in La Crosse at midnight last night.

The case was called to the attention of D. C. Dewey, superintendent of the Rescue Mission. He provided them with hotel accommodations and today they were equipped by Sol Burdick, poor commissioner, with sufficient funds to take them to Dubuque, Iowa. There, it is expected, the authorities will help them on their way to their destination—a village on the shores of the Mississippi.

With their strange inflections of speech, born of a life time in the mountains, it was hard for trainmen to learn their destination and, according to the father, he, his wife and two children had been shipped back and forth across the great railway systems until their funds were exhausted.

The family walked half the way from St. Paul to La Crosse. The strain on the children—little tots—was great. Half way between the Twin cities and here, a generous farmer supplied them with fare to La Crosse.

"You all have been good to we uns," said the big mountaineer, as the family was placed aboard a southbound train. "We won't forget it."

DEATH TAKES LITTLE GIRL

Tuberculosis last night took Erna Petry, 12, daughter of Carl Petry, of La Crescent, at a local hospital. The little girl came with her parents from Germany only a few years ago. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home at La Crescent. Burial will take place at Prospect Hill cemetery.

ALLIES AGREE THEY WILL STAY TOGETHER UNTIL WAR IS ENDED

AUSTRIA BEATEN RUSSIA TURNS TO GERMAN INVASION

Nearly 800,000 Men Will Immediately Be Pushed Forward Toward Berlin

AUSTRIANS HAVE BEEN CRUSHED

Are Driven Out of Russian Poland and Beyond the San River

RUSSIANS HOLD EAST GALICIA

Vienna Admits Dual Monarchy's Forces Are Now Behind San and Vistula Rivers

PETROGRAD, Sept. 5.—The Russian army today began serious operations against the Germans. The troops in the northern and southern sections of Eastern Prussia have been ordered to resume the offensive. Nearly 800,000 men will immediately be pushed forward on the march to Berlin.

Clear Russian Poland

The general staff declares the Austrian danger is past. It is said officially the Austrians are now beyond the San river in a demoralized condition. The war office insists that Russian Poland is now clear of the enemy.

Today the following official statement was issued.

"The Austrian army has been completely crushed as the result of a general offensive movement on the part of the Russian field forces under Grand Duke Nicholas. Immediately following the war declaration forces assumed the offensive. With the exception of four army corps operating against the Servians the entire Austrian active army was directed against Russia and Russian Poland was invaded. In a battle that lasted for ten days the entire Austrian offensive was completely destroyed. Their armies were defeated with enormous losses on a battle front extending from the Carpathian mountains to Austrian Poland. Lemberg and other important positions were occupied by the Russian forces. Thousands of prisoners, nearly 200 cannon and important supplies and munitions were captured. In the meanwhile the Austrian army invading Serbia was totally defeated by the Servians at Sabatz.

Vienna Admits Defeat

VIENNA, Via Rome, Sept. 5.—Serious reverses to the great Austrian armies led by Gen. Moritz von Auffenberg, former war minister, and Gen. Dankl, who has been in supreme command of the invasion of Russian Poland, are admitted by the war office.

The failure of Gen. Faurnier's army to hold the line between Tomaszow in the Russian Poland province of Lublin, is declared to have been responsible. Dankl's troops had moved fast through Poland and were attaining material successes when the Austrian army in front of Lemberg was forced to retreat.

German reinforcements, which included fresh artillery, reached the scene too late to be of service.

In the fighting between Tomaszow and the positions on the San and Vistula rivers the Austrian losses were very heavy and among the dead it is stated are two generals of divisions. It is admitted at the war office that it has been necessary to abandon all of eastern Galicia to the enemy and the new Austrian lines are behind the San river and along the Vistula. It is stated that German reinforcements are enroute.

BANG! BANG!! BOOM!!! HUNTERS ARE OUT

Rural residents of La Crosse county on the Mississippi and Black rivers hearing volley upon volley of shots in the early hours of Monday morning (Labor day), may mistake the opening day of the 1914 hunting season for a part of the German army besieging Paris.

"Ducks have been sighted in their usual camping grounds," say rumors, and La Crosse hunters are mobilizing for an attack. Six hundred licenses have been issued.

SIGN AGREEMENT TO FIGHT UNTIL THE BITTER END

Agree that England, France and Russia Will Not Sue for Peace on Individual Basis

FALL OF PARIS NOT MATERIAL

If Germans Capture City It Will Be Only Incident in Great War to Be Waged

BY ED L. KEEN (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The war will continue to the bitter end. No one of the three great allied nations will consider peace on individual basis. This was decided today and Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, and the French and the Russian ambassador signed an agreement to that effect.

Heretofore the allies were bound together only by their treaties. So far as England was concerned this treaty did not provide for any offensive and defensive agreement. It would have been possible for any one of the three nations, Russia, France or England, to have concluded peace with Germany on its own account.

In order to emphasize that the war on Germany must be carried on to the bitter end, the French and Russian ambassadors, on the personal invitation of Sir Edward Grey, came to the foreign office today. The situation to date was thoroughly canvassed, and it was agreed that there was no reason for alarm.

Predict Final Triumph

It was recognized that France had suffered the most, and that the peril was still very real there. But it was also agreed that the allies, working together, would eventually triumph. It was then, at the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey, that the agreement was drawn up which binds the allies to make common cause together to the very end.

It is believed here that this agreement will serve to permit France and England to have the final say, in any peace negotiation, should the German armed forces be crushed. It has been suggested that Russia might demand that Austria-Hungary be turned over to her intact after the war. Now, however, it will be possible to insist on a basis of settlement that will not disturb the balance of Europe in the future.

It was also pointed out that as a result of this agreement, even though France should be conquered by the Germans and completely overrun by them, it will be impossible for the French government to negotiate peace with Germany on an individual basis.

It is admitted here that if the Paris defensive works fall before the great German siege guns, the city may be surrendered. But even so, it is explained that this would only be a single event in the great war itself.

France is doing her best, but France is hard pressed. The British forces, ridiculously inadequate when compared with the mighty German war machine, have stiffened the French lines. But they could not check the German advance. The German forces may break the Paris defenses. If they do, the war will continue.

The empire's second army is getting ready for the field. From overseas, trained soldiers, Canadians, East Indians, Australians, New Zealanders, are converging on the battle zone.

Russia is doing her part. Four weeks is the time limit set by the Russian general staff for the army to reach within striking distance of the German capital. The allies hold that eventually the kaiser must withdraw all of his forces to the east to save his own country from the Russians.

Expect Naval Battle

Suggestions of naval activity are heard at the admiralty. It is believed that an attempt will be made to draw the main German squadron out from its shelter behind the Heligoland and Wilhelmshaven land forts.

ALL READY FOR BIG LABOR DAY

All labor union heads of La Crosse are making final preparations today for the annual parade and picnic to be held on Labor day, Monday.

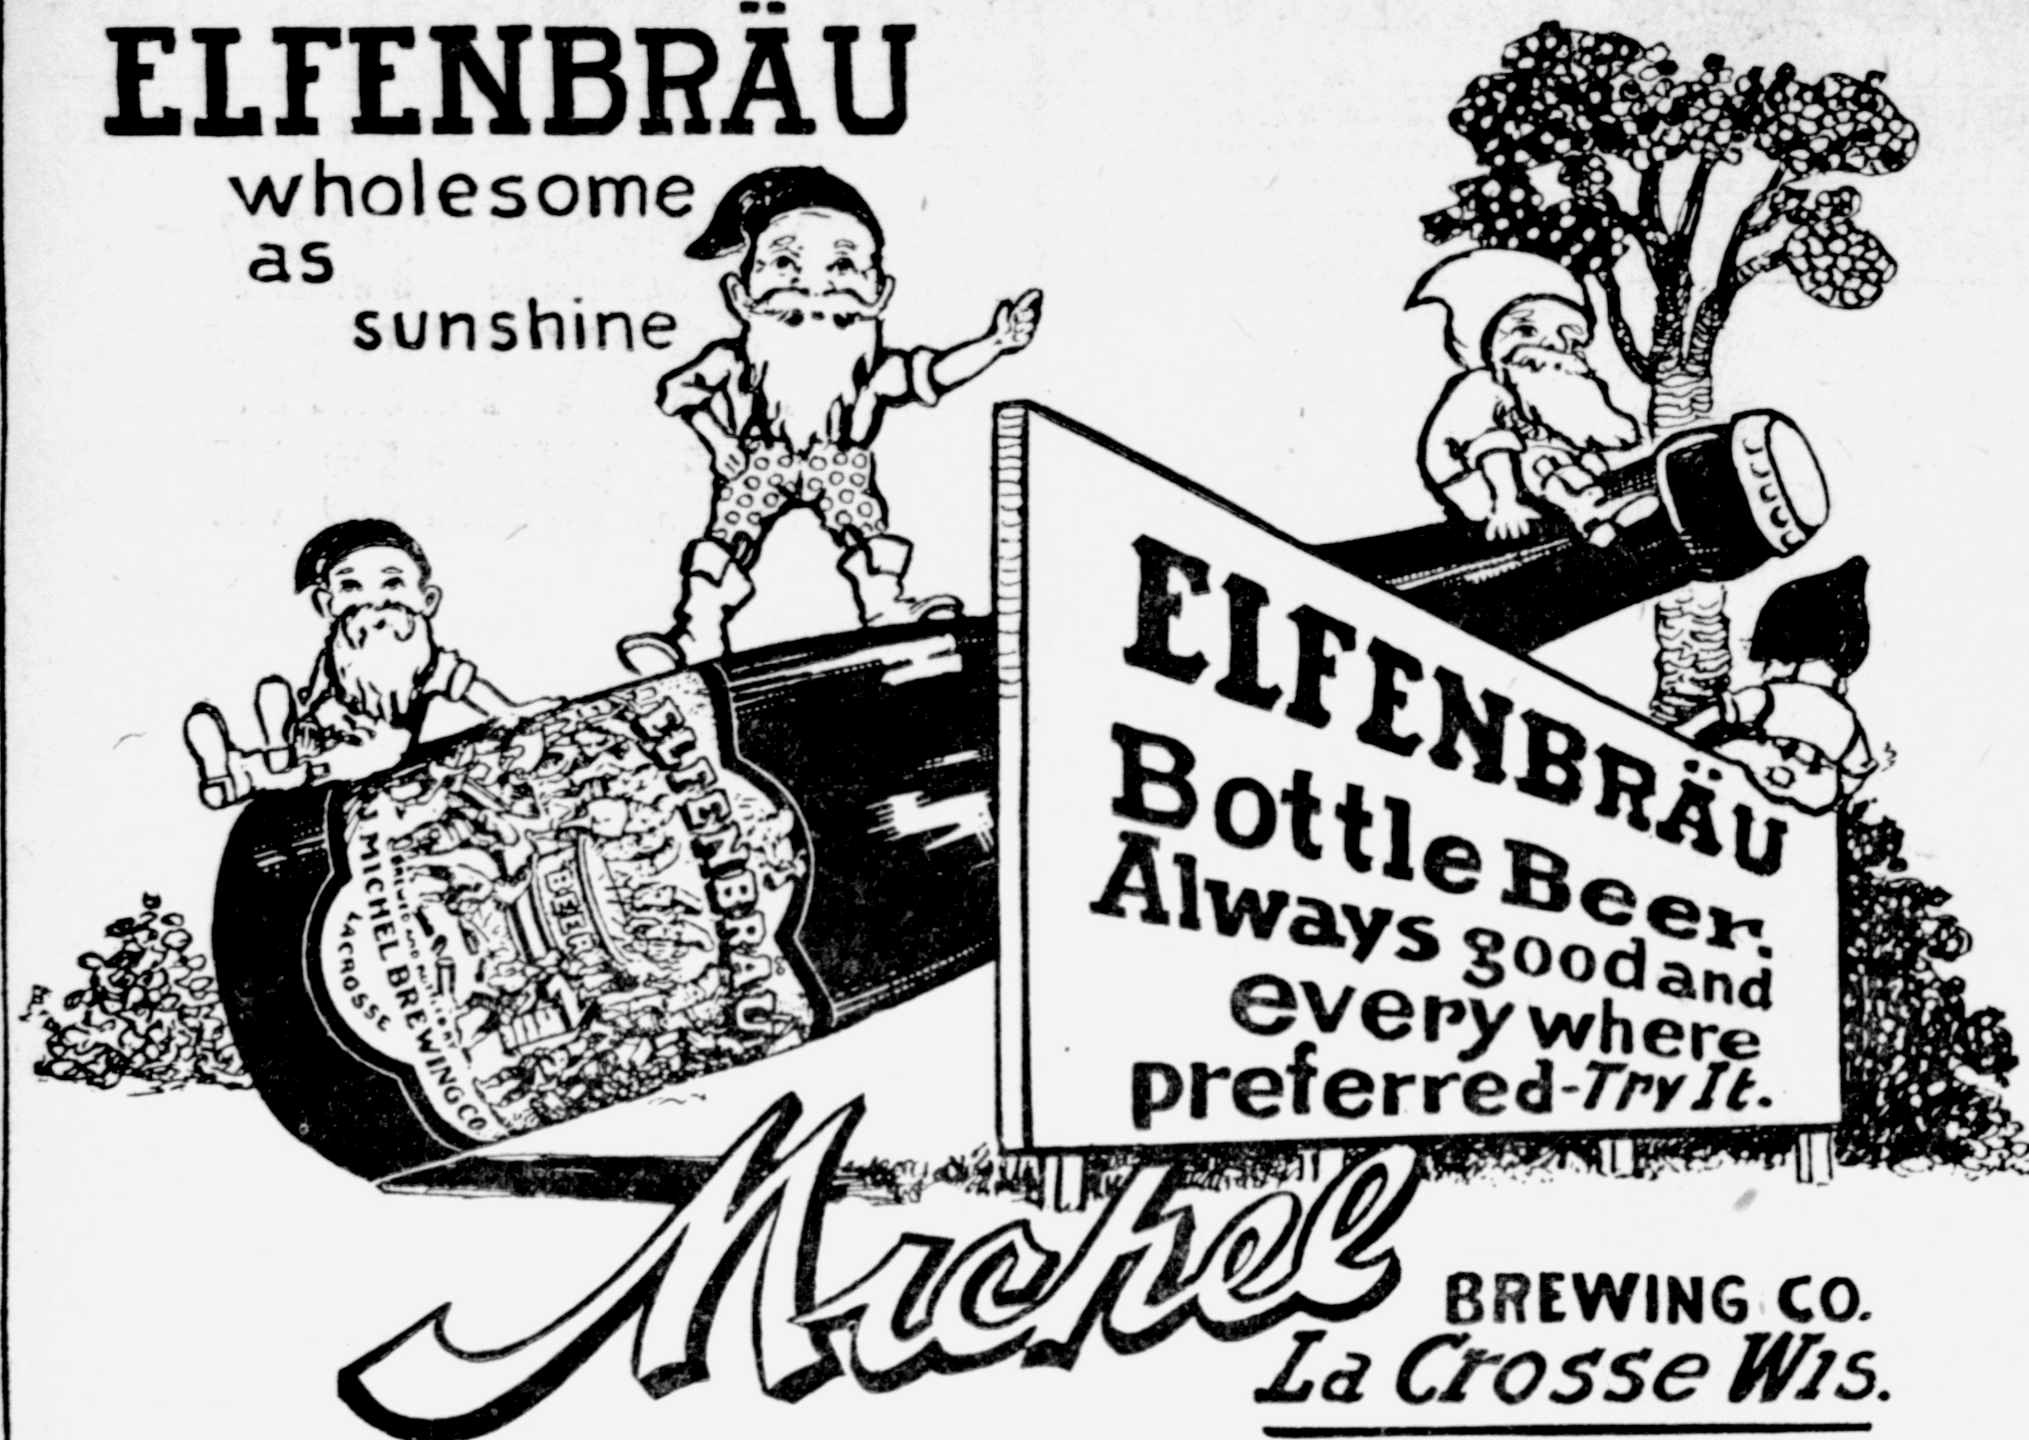

With no exceptions, each union will be represented by all members able to be present.

"With clear skies," said Organizer John Rae, "La Crosse will have the most distinctly unique parade Monday morning it has ever witnessed on Labor day."

The line of march will terminate at the old shooting grounds, Twelfth and Mormon Coulee, where the picnic will be held.

FOIL ZEPPELIN
RAID OVER CITY

ANTWERP, Sept. 5.—Another aerial raid by a Zeppelin was attempted, but it was unproductive of any serious damage within the city. The forts and the riflemen especially selected for that work drove the dirigible off. The Germans attempted to surprise the forts by swinging around the city far behind the limits and then drifting down the wind from the direction of the Scheldt river, in order that the noise of their propeller might not be heard. The ruse, however, did not prove successful. The watchers of the outlying forts saw the giant shape. The big dirigible apparently realized that only speed could save it, started at full speed toward the big wireless station, the object of Wednesday morning's attack. But long before it reached the scene the fire from the lightweight automatic guns in the cathedral spire and those placed on the roofs of the city hall caused the Zeppelin to swerve. It turned and swept off.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 5.—Election of David J. Palmer of Iowa as next commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic seemed practically assured when delegates to the annual national encampment entered the convention hall for their closing session.

Y., was elected commander in chief of the Sons of Veterans; the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans chose Bessie Wallace Bowser of Indianapolis as national president, and Mrs. Mary A. Jameson, of Marine City, Mich., was elected president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

BRITISH TO FREE
CAPTURED CARGOES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Great Britain today announced a plan to re-establish commercial intercourse on the high seas. In a statement from the British embassy this afternoon, it was declared that England will "set free as many cargoes as possible."

The statement, as given out by the embassy, follows: "In order to prevent loss to subjects of neutral powers, and to encourage continuance of trade, the British government has taken steps to set free, expeditiously and without reference to prize courts, as many cargoes as possible, even though in some cases many cargoes may be liable in law to condemnation as a prize."

An executive committee, with full power to deal with such cases, has been appointed. This was regarded in official circles as a move to re-establish as quickly as possible trade communication with the United States and South America, so as to decrease the necessity of an American merchant marine.

That Darned Stocking

BY DARRA MORE

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Sue Garrity put down the last unpaid bill and her lips met in a firm, determined line. For ten years now, she had been wrestling alone with—bills.

The girl's father had been a painter. Always the income had been uncertain, inadequate. The day he died, it ceased entirely. Mrs. Garrity was one of those helpless women. There were two girls younger than Sue, who knew not how to help out in crisis.

Sue became a stenographer. For ten years she had piloted the little family through life's undercurrents. For ten years she had known nothing but work and scheme and work to keep the ever increasing bills paid. There had been a time when the outgo was squared by her income, but for two years now she had been steadily going behind. The unpaid bills, however, were not of her making. Almost nothing did she spend on herself. She made her own simple shirtwaists and skirts. She fashioned her own hats. She kept her clothes in repair. She darned and redarned her stockings. Every little pleasure dear to a girl's heart, she had forgotten. Her sisters knew no such deprivation, however, nor did the mother.

And Sue was tired, dead tired. The accumulation of unpaid bills had made the girl almost desperate.

"I'm going to take a vacation," the long-starved nature of Sue Garrity declared. "I'm going to forget all these bills. I'm going to forget others and think of myself. I'm going to have a two weeks' holiday. But her practical, disciplined nature argued, "But, just think how much it will cost and consider how many of those bills could be paid, if you stay at home."

"I don't care," shot back frivolously Sue. "I'm going away somewhere for two weeks where I can be like other girls."

There was consternation in the little family when Sue declared her intention. It had not occurred to them that their little bread-winning machine could have any feelings or desires. They remonstrated, of course. Then, they stormed. Then, they pleaded. But, for once, the girl held out against her parasitic family.

"I'm leaving Saturday," she said, "and that settles it."

With a popular magazine in hand and an Indian blanket thrown over one arm, Sue Garrity followed the lovers' path that wound through the fragrant wood back of the hotel. She selected a tree not far from a purring brook as a prop for her afternoon's diversion.

Laying down the magazine, her eyes rested on the sunny brook. The call of the young days surged in her blood. Carefully she looked about for sign of a chance intruder. Satisfied that she was far enough from the path to have perfect seclusion, the girl began operations.

With a rippling laugh, such as she had not indulged in for years, she removed the very good looking but well worn shoes. Then again she looked up and about for sign of stray invader. Again the look was reassuring. Off came one cotton stocking with many darns therein, and then the other. Carefully she placed them on top of the shoes. Up went her skirt, and gingerly she stepped off to enjoy that acme of sport in the child's calendar—wading.

It was while the girl was exploring up stream that Tyrell Kemp, of New York, stumbled through the underbrush and came out by the tree where Sue Garrity's shoes and stockings lay unabashed. Sue's belongings would never have been molested had one stocking foot been perfectly in place. It was that foot that held the man's eyes. It held them because it was so full of darns as to seem to have nothing left. He couldn't refrain. He must examine closer into this unusual and unique exhibition.

For Tyrell Kemp was a very blasé and sophisticated person. His opinion of womanhood was not quite normal. Perhaps it was because he was something of a snob, and was particular not to notice women not in his "class." A girl who would wear a darned stocking, even one so thoroughly and artistically done as was this one, was beyond his comprehension.

The owner of these affairs must be somewhere near. The man looked about but no person was visible. He listened. There was no sound that could be construed as human. He acted quickly. One stocking was separated from its mate and carefully concealed in one of his many pockets. Chuckling, the man made his way to the path beyond and to the hotel.

A few minutes later, a very puzzled girl stood looking down at two shoes and one stocking.

She put on one stocking and then thought better of it. Better two bare spots showing than one. That way nature's own might be mistaken for flesh-colored hose now so popular.

It had not occurred to Sue to ponder over the destination of the missing stocking. She merely accepted the fact that it was gone, and planned from that point. Therefore, as she mounted the veranda steps, she was not at all concerned by the keen scrutiny of that glimpse of flesh color between hem of skirt and top of shoe.

Tyrell Kemp was forced to revise his opinion of women. A girl who could so calmly carry off such a situation, was indeed, new to him.

Most of the girls he knew were silly, self-conscious.

When he saw Sue Garrity—a Sue Garrity in soft shirt rolling away from a perfect neck and with beautifully moulded arms bared to the elbow and a week's mountain air and peaceful atmosphere painted into her cheeks and eyes—he saw a girl who interested him tremendously. There was something vaguely familiar about her. Still, he could not place her.

Leaving the dining room that evening, Sue buried herself in a big chair on the veranda, overlooking the placid waters of the lake. Tyrell Kemp, sitting by her side, offered her the evening papers from New York. She looked at him for the first time. A little startled smile escaped her and a stammered "Thank you, Mr. Kemp."

He was mystified. She had called him by name. He knew this wonderful girl.

For a few minutes they conversed on conventional topics, the girl edging away from personalities. Finally, he said: "I'm sorry, Miss Garrity, but I can't place you quite. Won't you help me?" he added earnestly.

Sue's warm smile reached over and laid hold of the man's heart. "I've been sitting at your elbow for seven years," she answered simply. "I'm your stenographer."

A couple of days later with his arm about his stenographer and his lips very close to her's, a new York business man on vacation bent, whispered softly: "And to think, dearest girl, if it hadn't been for that little darned stocking, I might never have seen you."

Since then Sue Garrity has never taken dictation nor worried about unpaid bills. Though it is said that she does, sometimes, darn her husband's socks—just as a matter of sentiment.

Daddy's Bedtime Story
How the First Bucking Broncho Started Bucking.

THE children were laughing over the antics of the bucking bronchos in a Wild West show, to which their daddy had taken them the day before.

"It was the funniest thing!" cried Jack. "Those bronchos would roll their eyes till the cowboys got on their backs, and then they would start jumping all over the grass, away up in the air and with their backs sticking straight up like our cat's when she is mad at a dog, and—"

"And they couldn't shake those cowboy riders off, no matter how hard they tried," cut in Evelyn, very much excited. "Isn't it wonderful, daddy?"

"Very wonderful," agreed daddy. "Do you know how the first bucking broncho started to buck?"

"No, daddy," answered Jack wonderingly. "Do you?"

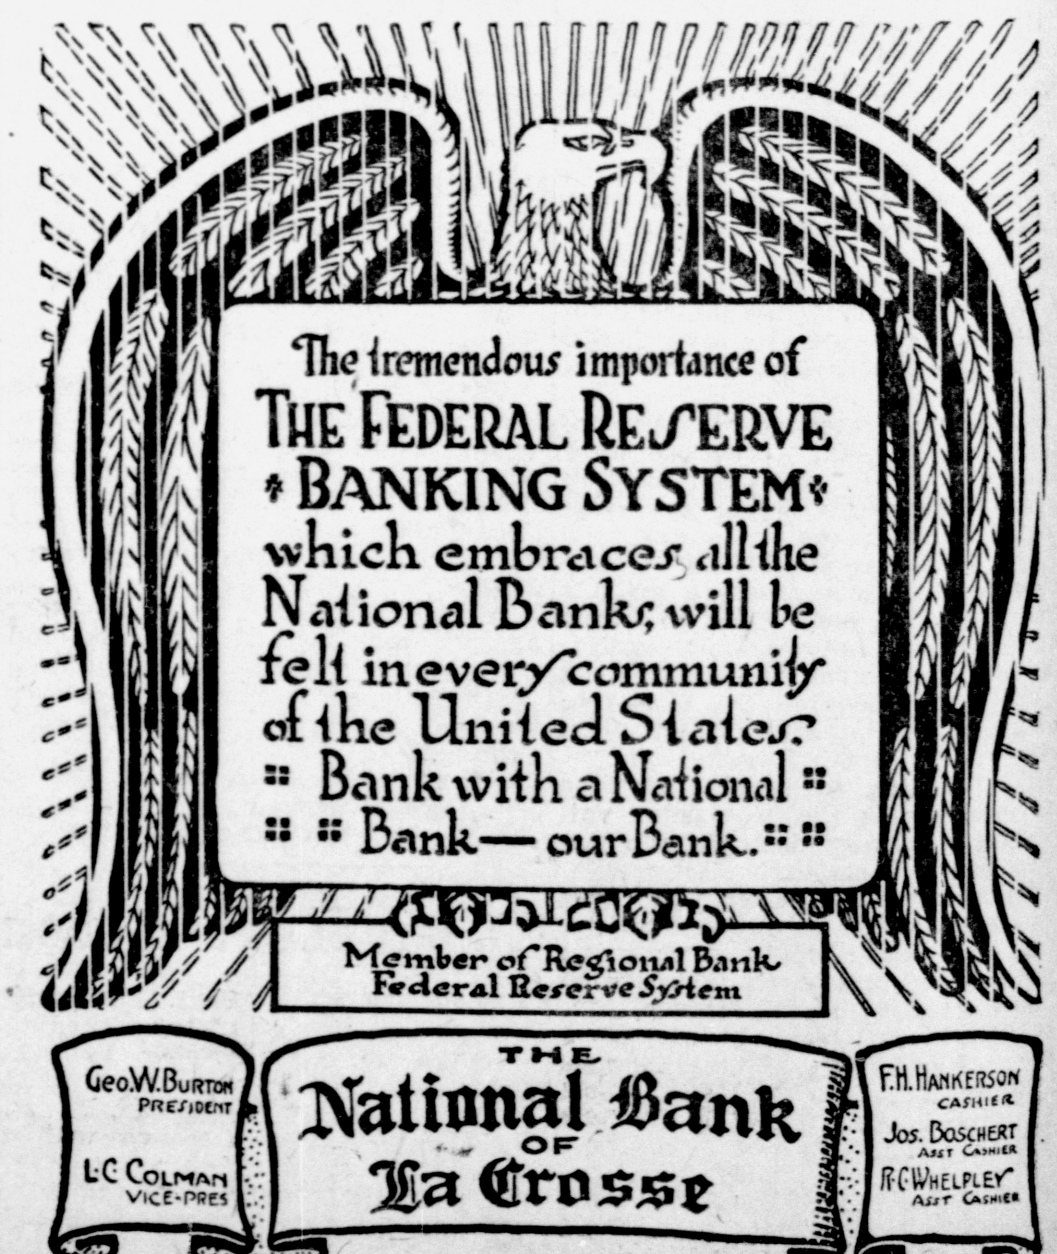

"No, Jack," admitted daddy. "I don't know for sure, but I think it must have come from his watching the little lambs. Remember, I don't say this is so, but it might be. Horses are just as different as people. Some are gentle and some are not, and when the first cowboys began riding over the plains, chasing cattle and taking care of them, they had trouble in riding some of the horses. The horses would rear and run like everything, but after awhile the men would conquer them."

"But one wise pony had just made up his little mind that he would not be ridden, and he thought hard to think up a way so that a man couldn't ride him. Nobody had ever tried to ride him yet, for he was very wild. But he knew the day would come, and he thought hard."

"One day this pony was eating grass on his range when he saw in the distance many sheep and lambs, and he saw the little lambs, because they were so glad to be alive, jump in the air with all four feet at once, with their little backs humped like a mad cat. And right away he had an idea."

"The very next day some men came and lassoed him and put a saddle and bridle on him. Then the best rider among them mounted him. He stood still till the man was on him, and then he commenced jumping up in the air with all four feet at once and humping his back as he had seen the lambs do, and he threw the rider off, and he threw him off again and again."

"But by and by the man managed to figure a way to ride him even when he was bucking, for men love to conquer hard things to do. But other horses had heard of the pony's trick, and they keep on trying to keep men from riding them until this day. But, as you saw in the Wild West show, the men ride them just the same."

Officers of the Alumni Association

President, Helen Dorset, '91, 330 S. 6 St.
Vice-Pres. H.K. Holley, '04, 230 S. 8 St.
Sec., Mrs. H. M. Curtis, '94, 1108 State St.
Treas., Ray L. Dickinson, '06, 1402 Vine St.

The opening of the high school this week with an enrollment already totalling something over 900 is a far cry from the days when the old high school building was too large for the school, and a graduating class of 20 or 25 was something phenomenal. The figures are simply astonishing when it is remembered that the total number of graduates in the 36 classes up to 1913 is only 914 or about the present enrollment in the school. Until 1904 no class numbered among its graduates enough members to equal the present high school faculty of 39, and if the principal be counted in, not until 1908, with a class of 50, did the graduates of one year equal the present number of teachers. To the older graduates it is impossible to realize the change which mere numbers, and nothing else, has made in the spirit of the school.

Incidentally it should be remarked that the La Crosse high school is now on the accredited list of the University of Pennsylvania, which means that graduates desiring to enter that institution will not have to take entrance examinations. Ted Cronon, '09, is now enrolled there, studying architecture. And while on the subject of the high school I might as well add that Philipp Elliot, formerly a teacher here, passed through here on his way to the law school at Harvard this week. It will be remembered that Jonathan Piper (ask George Howe—class of '13—about "Pipah") and Frank C. Hodgson, both popular teachers and both honorary members, are now graduates of that same law school.

Miss Dorset, who is, needless to remark, president of this association, reminds me to ask if anybody knows anything about Miss Minnie E. Sabin, whose mysterious disappearance from the class of '76 we noted last time. Information will be gratefully received.

No less perplexing is the problem of the class of '80. The class of '80 was Mrs. Mrs. Laura Gray, the only married woman ever graduated from the school. The class of '80 has disappeared from the ken of the officers of this association. At a guess it would seem that Mrs. Gray's name was entered after she had graduated and had married. Can anyone throw any light on the subject?

Also, has anyone kept in touch with Harry E. Wakeman, '90? He entered the high school with the class of '91 and that class still claims him, but he finished in three years and so graduated in 1890. "Graduation in three years," says a member of '91, "was not so common then as now, and '91 united in expecting a brilliant career from our prize member. I should be most pleased to hear of or from him." Information on any of these points may be sent to Miss Dorset or the editor of this column.

The president is in receipt of a characteristic letter from Ed Smith, '85. He is not entered as '85 on the rolls, but says he graduated in that year, the only boy in a class of five. But let him speak for himself:

"Yes'm, I am a graduate. The way I remember is, I was the only boy in the class and they are probably all proud grandmothers but me. Believe me—it is some distinction to be the only boy in a class and still preserve hide, heart and mind. I don't know when that was, however."

Corra Bennett was in my class—I remember now—and I think Gertrude Barron Harrison. From that you can figure the year. This places Ed definitely. The other members of the class are Mrs. Gertrude B. Harrison, Julia C. Bennett, Mrs. Will Moss and Adeline White. May we not hear from them, too?

I am indebted to Mr. W. H. Sanders of the normal school for a list of our alumni graduating from that institution this year, who are to teach school. They are:

Esther J. Vik, '12, at New Richmond, Wis.
Lena M. Weimar, '12, (who graduated as well from the Potsdam normal school in New York), music and drawing in the Viroqua schools.
Mildred Rynning, '12, Galesville.
Nora Ruden, '11, Mondovi.
Albertine Pope, '12, (who graduated from high school in three and a half years), Ontario, Wis.
Nora Nyseth, '12, Pepin, Wis.
Esther Marcou, '12, Wausau.
Della Jost, '12, Camp Douglas.
Anna Blatter, '12, Holmen.
Mabel Bjornstad, '12, Hogan school, La Crosse.
Josephine Bangsberg, '11, Menominee.

An appeal for personal news brought an avalanche of interesting bits about alumni. There is no way to take it, I guess, but as it comes. Here goes:

I am reminded that in last week's list of alumni teaching in the city schools, in addition to several errors

(man is born to error) I forgot to mention that Harry Marshall, '14, is now an assistant in physical education in the high school, and that the efficient clerks in both the offices there are high school graduates—John Beranek, '12, for Superintendent Benetz, and Matilda Linse, '10, for Principal McCormick. And I fear for my life if I do not immediately declare that Helen Schofield, '08, with her sister Florence, '09, have left for Decena, near Birmingham, Ala. Helen taught Latin at the high school last year, and is now to be principal of a state graded school there, in some way connected, I understand, with the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. Florence has been teaching in Montgomery, and now goes to the Birmingham high school in home economics.

Henrietta Martindale, '07, returns for her second year of work in the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst, where she is specializing in landscape gardening. Katherine, '08, goes to the University of Wisconsin for home economics work. Elinore Schweizer of the youngest class in the association will attend Wellesley. Ben Stevens, '08, and Mrs. Ben Stevens (Daisy Gage, '10), have left for Orray, Col., where Ben is to supervise the schools and introduce the Wisconsin idea. Arthur Gelatt, '10, whose experience in Europe should prove interesting conversation, is to be assistant in science at Madison. John Otten, '06, has resigned his position at Carroll college, Anne Edwards, '95, left for the University of Chicago, where she is secretary to the president. Helen Anderson, '10, is returning to Boston to her work in the Psychopathic hospital. Mary Burton, '14, will enter Smith. William Crosby, '10, (what became of that money from the junior prom, will?) with his mother, Mrs. Emma A. Crosby, '79, and Miss Margaret, are to be in Massachusetts, where William will study architecture at Boston Polytechnic. Helen M. Day, '84, is now head of the domestic science department in Beardsley institute, Peoria, Ill. Myrtle Moore, '11, will enter Ohio Wesleyan.

The successful close to the successful season of the playgrounds reminds me that the work this year was done under the supervision of high school graduates. Fred Dickens, '09, was in charge, assisted by Harold Taylor, '14, Arthur Strum, '13, Frances Egbert, '12, and Grace Hildreth, '12.

Sophie Berger, '00, is now superintendent of the Young Woman's Hebrew association in New York city. This association is similar to the Y. W. C. A., though not a national organization. The New York association has just completed the construction of a home for 150 girls, in getting which Miss Berger was an important factor.

Ella A. Mathews, teacher of history and Latin in the high school, 1909-11, is doing active suffrage work in Cleveland, Ohio. She had been organizing civic and suffrage leagues in Illinois last winter and spring.

The present addresses of the following are requested:
Edith Sayless Ross, '86; Gertrude L. Haugen, '86; Frank Allen Roddy, '09; Henry B. Schaldach, '05; Hugo F. Schaldach, '08, and Mary Torrance, '94.

SUNDAY SCHOOL STUDENTS PICNIC

North Presbyterian Church Holds Annual Outing at Myrick Park Today

Bright and early this morning, the children of the Sunday school and a number of the members of the congregation of the North Presbyterian church took the special car at Caledonia and Logan streets for Myrick park, where the annual picnic of the church was held today.

The day was spent by the children in a grand romp, the weather being ideal for the affair. Clouds early in the day forecasted rain, but towards 9 o'clock they broke, much to the satisfaction of the picnicers.

The day for the elders of the church was one for a general "get acquainted" time. The picnic was pronounced by Rev. Clarke as the most successful ever held by the church.

British Battle Cruisers that Sunk Several German Vessels

H.M.S. LION.

H.M.S. QUEEN MARY.

These are two of the three mighty British battle cruisers that sank three German cruisers and it is believed a dozen more smaller crafts in the first naval battle of the war.

The Lion, built in 1911, was the flagship of Sir David Beatty, commander of the squadron. The Princess Royal, which was also engaged in the fight, is of the same class as the Lion and a sister ship.

The Queen Mary is even a larger vessel.

The normal displacement of the Lion and the Princess Royal is 26,350 tons. The over-all length is 680 feet, the beam is 86 1-2 feet, the maximum draught is 31 1-2 feet. The guns are eight 13.5 inch, sixteen 4 inch and four 3-pounders. There are three submerged torpedo tubes (21 inch). The designed horsepower is 70,000 and the speed is 28 knots. Complement, 1,000.

Alterations were made after trials, as flames from the fore-funnel rendered the fire control station untenable.

The normal displacement of the Queen Mary is 27,000 tons. The over-length is 725 feet, the beam is 87 feet, the maximum draught is 30 feet. The guns are eight 13.5 inch, sixteen 4-inch, and four 3-pounders. There are three submerged torpedo tubes (21-inch). The designed horse-power is 75,000 and the speed is 27 knots. Generally the Queen Mary and the Tiger are of the Lion type. The Queen Mary has attained 33 knots.

Thursday evening Miss Emma Siebrecht, 1403 Johnson street, entertained at a towel shower in honor of Miss Edna Rochelt, who is to be a September bride.

The house was decorated with ferns and wild flowers. A 5 o'clock dinner was served at which a huge birthday cake was one of the conspicuous features. A spider web which was strung over the grounds made a lot of fun for all. The return to the city was made at 7:30. Miss Leona Doerflinger and Miss Gretchen Salzer assisted.

MOVING TIME HERE
AND POPULATION OF
CITY IS INCREASING

Moving time is here. With the opening of September and the passing of the hot months, moving has been started in earnest. No less than twenty families have already moved into La Crosse as against approximately half a dozen outboud. Before the end of the month it is probable that close to one hundred households will have settled in new locations. Fully fifty families have changed locations in the city since the beginning of the month, much of the stir being on the north side. La Crosse transfer companies for the last week have been worked to capacity taking care of the rush. One company reports a total of eighteen families moved in four days and another reports eight.

JAPS ADMIT LOSS
OF A DESTROYER

TOKIO, Sept. 5.—The government today reported the loss of the Japanese destroyer Shiratayo off Kiao Chau. The official statement explains that the destroyer went on the rocks during a fog, and that she was so badly damaged that no attempt was made to refloat her. All members of the crew were saved. The Shiratayo was 227 feet long, had a displacement of 360 tons and was built in 1905.

On the principle that a penny saved is a penny earned, the joke-smith should take care of the cents of humor.

FLORAL COMPANY IN FINE QUARTERS

New Main Street Store a Model for Beauty; Formally Opened to Public Today

One of the neatest and best equipped establishments in the city is the new store of the La Crosse Floral company at 510 Main street. The site, formerly occupied by the Hunton company, has been remodeled for use as a salesroom of the Floral company.

The store was formally opened to the public this morning.

Only the very latest equipment was used in the fitting of the new place. The prevailing tone of the interior is dark, the woodwork being turned oak. The walls of the store are fitted with beveled plate glass mirrors, creating a most pleasing effect.

Modern refrigerators, cooled by the ice machine in the basement, are calculated to preserve for the longest possible period the stock of cut flowers and orchids.

An inverted lighting system adds much to the attractiveness of the establishment. Pope inverted reflectors being used.

KEEWATIN ACADEMY IS WIDELY KNOWN

One of the best private schools in the country is that known as Kew-watin academy, whose summer home is in Prairie du Chien, Wis., and whose winter camp is at St. Augustine, Florida. The headmaster is James H. Kendrigan, a scholar and athlete, who before establishing this school had already made a reputation for himself as a teacher in a New England school.

Prairie du Chien, the summer home of the academy, is located on the banks of the Mississippi river.
The school was fortunate in being able to secure an old historic estate of seventy acres, known as the Villa Louis, which was established by a contemporary of John Jacob Astor during the palmy days of the western fur trade.

This large piece of ground gives the pupils of the school a most delightful opportunity to become acquainted with nature. It is a great step in advance over many schools cramped upon a piece of ground a few hundred feet in extent each way.

War Bulletins

Russian legation announced today that by order of the czar hereafter Jews may become officers in the army.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A news agency dispatch from Antwerp via Amsterdam, says that King Albert of Belgium was slightly wounded in the hand by fragments of a shell while leading the Belgians near Antwerp.

OSTEND, Sept. 4.—(Delayed.)—
A German aeroplane fell near this city today. Two German officers who were in it were taken prisoners and the machine was demolished by peasants.

Hambrecht Speaker
Since the results of Tuesday's elections became known, several aspirants for speakership of the next legislature have been eliminated and the talk now centers around the name of former Assemblyman George P. Hambrecht of Grand Rapids.
Hambrecht was prominent in the 1909 legislature.

SPOTLIGHTS

"THE SPENDTHRIFT"
The New York Herald says of this play:

"If you are a husband with a charming wife, who is, without a thought, spending your money faster than you can earn it; if you are a wife with a husband whose efforts to induce you to economize simply bore you; if you are a young man in love with the best girl in the world; if you are the young woman with whom he is in love; if you are a cynical old bachelor; if you are just a plain, ordinary citizen who likes a good, substantial play, well staged and well acted; if you are any of these, you will do well to take in 'The Spendthrift.'"

"The Spendthrift" will appear at the La Crosse Theatre on Sunday,
Sept. 6, matinee and night.

Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty, who last season gave us a charming and very successful dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's book, "The Shepherd of the Hills," will present another play taken from Mr. Wright's story, "That Printer of Udell's," dramatized by Mr. Wright and Elsbury W. Reynolds.
This is a play well worth seeing and as many thousands have read the book, it is certain to make an instant appeal to those who enjoy a good clean, moral drama. It has a good strong plot and were it pruned of all except the story itself and its ultimate ending "happily for the hero and heroine," it would be interesting in the extreme. "That Printer of Udell's" comes to the La Crosse Theatre on Monday, Sept. 7, matinee and night. A special attraction for Labor Day.

REV. F. W. STRAW TO PREACH HERE

The Rev. F. W. Straw, who has just closed a successful pastorate of three years at the Methodist Episcopal church of Sparta, ending a long and successful ministry, is in the city on his way to his future home in San Diego, Cal., where he will live in retirement. He is visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. R. M. I. Kinneer, and has consented to preach in the First Methodist church of this city on Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev.
T. Stanley Oadams, will preach in the evening.

HOUSTON WOMAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

died at 3 o'clock this morning at a local hospital. She was a resident of Houston, Minn., and is survived by her husband. Cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death. The body was escorted to Houston this morning.
Funeral services and interment will take place there Monday morning.

Locomotor Ataxia

In a very interesting article on Locomotor Ataxia, Dr. Henry C. Story says that drugs have practically no beneficial effect in these cases. He says that rest should be insisted upon, and there should be no worries or troubles. Plenty of fresh air and moderate exercise must be insisted upon, but over-exertion is injurious. The use of tobacco and alcohol should be strictly forbidden, and over-eating is dangerous, especially when the food is poorly masticated. The food must be of the most nourishing kind, and the quantity and variety must be changed so that the patient will not lose his appetite. The most annoying symptom in these cases is the pain which at times is almost unbearable. Dr. Story says that he finds two Anti-kamnia Tablets relieved in an hour if necessary, gives prompt relief and rest to the patient. These Tablets can be obtained at all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for A-K Tablets.
Also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all Pain.
P. S. Skin troubles succumb to A-K Salve.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Hedging operations on the board of trade today brought wheat prices down 1 to 2 1/2 cents. Demand was light and most traders were moving cautiously after the sensational gains of the last two days.

Corn felt the downward pull of weather and closed 3/4 to 1 1/2c lower today. Oats was a shade firmer at the start, but developed an easier tone in the forenoon, losing about all the early advance.

Trade in provisions was dull, with prices a shade lower.

WORE MONEY IN LEATHER BELT

Saves Small Sum of $1,600
He Had When He Landed in Berlin; Coming Home Soon

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5.—Special—From Berlin to the lobby of the Congress hotel seemed almost as far as from Earth to Mars.
Dr. A. A. Maurer of La Crosse said
when he reached Chicago.

Dr. Maurer fled through Brisling armies, across battlefields laden with their dead and crossed the Atlantic in a steamship which he declared, was "infested with rats."

"I could never believe the sights
I saw in Europe could ever occur in this world," he said.

Dr. Maurer still carried a belt filled with German money, the remnant of $1,600 he had upon his arrival in Berlin six months ago.

TO MAKE WASHING MACHINES IN CITY

La Crosse Washer Company Takes Over Interests of the Woman's Faultless
Washer Company

The La Crosse Washer company, taking over the interests of the Woman's Faultless Washer company, has been organized by a number of local business men to continue the manufacture of the "Faultless" washer, until recently manufactured in this city.

The newly organized company has taken over the entire plant of the old company at Front and Market streets, which is equipped with modern machinery and which contains a total of 10,000 square feet of floor space, allowing for an expansion in the business.

Manufacture of the machines will be commenced at once, as a strong local demand for the product has already been created. Agencies in St.
Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Madison, Winona and other cities have been established for an effective selling and distributing medium.

So great is the confidence of agents in the merits of the product that F. X. Nolan, the St. Louis representative, who was in La Crosse yesterday, has contracted for the sale for the entire state of Missouri.

William Doerflinger has been elected president of the company, with E. J. Volkman, proprietor of the machine, superintendent of the manufacturing end of the business. L.

stalled in the window of the Gas and

GERMANS MOVE TO IMPRISON BELGIANS

Strong Body with Heavy Artillery Is Proceeding Toward Antwerp

ANTWERP, Via The Hague, Sept.
5.—It is officially admitted that the German and Belgium troops have clashed at several points and that a strong body of Germans with heavy artillery is moving from the German base toward this city. It is believed that a movement is in progress designed to pen the Belgian forces inside of Antwerp forts.

The headquarters of the German staff, recently moved from Brussels to Mons, is now declared to have again been shifted to an unmentioned point inside of French territory. Strong forces of Germans have moved in the general direction of Ghent and the sea coast, and it is believed her that the Germans have discovered a plan to attack their lines of communication.

CLAIMS HAMMOND IS THE NEXT GOVERNOR

Mr. Adolph Falbisaner, who is well known in this city as a German lecturer, was visiting his many La Crosse friends today. Mr. Falbisaner, who now resides at St. Paul, came from Austin and Wykoff,
where he spoke yesterday for Congressman W. S. Hammond, the democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota, who was expected to deliver addresses at the county fairs at these places, but was detained to attend on account of urgent official business in Washington. Mr. Falbisaner claims that Mr. Hammond will be Minnesota's next governor.

DERR CERTAIN OF NOMINATION

Official Canvass Shows He Has Big Lead of Wendling, His Nearest Competitor

That E. H. Derr, Sealer of Weights and Measures, candidate for sheriff on the republican ticket has the nomination cinched by a slightly better margin than the first choice votes showed was made certain with the counting this morning by the canvass board.

At noon today, not all of the precincts in La Crosse county had sent complete returns. The work of the board was greatly hindered.

The only complete returns this morning were those of the prohibition party. They showed J. Spangler had twenty votes against A. E.
Smith's thirteen for the office of county treasurer.

Horace Willey lost with ten votes against twenty-one for C. M. Cas-berg for coroner.

Evan Jenkins lost to Henry
Stephenson for clerk of circuit court.
The vote was 23 to 10.

Second choice votes are said by the board to be very light throughout the county.

Compilation of precinct returns developed little difference through-second choice votes. The lack of reports from a few county precincts makes the work of the canvass board doubly difficult.

For secretary of state, Nels Holman leads John S. McDonald. The vote is 1,141 to 864. Henry Johnson has a large majority over Paul Scharf. The vote shows 1,198 to 859. F. R. Bently has 1,198 to for W. C. Owen, for the attorney generalship.

HOUSTON, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special)—Eldora and Jewel Onstad, young daughters of a well known family here, are suffering severely from burns, the result of tipping over a pan of candy made by an older sister. The candy had been set upon a table to cool, and the younger girls, investigating, turned it over upon themselves. Eldora's left hand is badly blistered. Jewel has unsightly and painful burns on the forehead and cheek.

Changed the Formula.

Mr. Paul Taylor, London magistrate, has improved upon the time-honored formula addressed to prisoners who are obviously innocent—"You leave the court without a stain on your character." In a case before him recently he assured a defendant that he "would leave the court with as good a character as when he entered it."

Theory and Practice.

The difference between theory and practice is shown when the whole family goes off to attend a humane congress and leaves the cat to starve in the cellar.—Washington Post.

LIGHTNING CAUSE OF MANY FIRES

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 5.—Lightning overwhelmingly exceeded all other single causes of fires reported to the state fire marshal's department for the month of August, according to State Fire Marshal Clem P. Host's monthly report. There were 107 from this source, with damage of $150,420. All were on un-roofed buildings. ## SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Foreign Missions

Suffer from War
American foreign missionary societies are agitating the project of raising funds here to maintain, during the present war, work in foreign fields that has heretofore been maintained by Christian people of Germany, France, Belgium, and if need be to assist that supported by people of England and Scotland. French and German foreign work, that in China, India and elsewhere supported from these countries, will assuredly go to pieces unless assisted, it is said. France is the largest supporter of Catholic missions in the east, and American Catholics are being asked to come in and in some measure take the places of French supporters.

Presbyterian foreign work, suffering from a debt of $292,000 and having in hand a China campaign, is merely trying to hold its own. The Japanese activity in the east is alarming China work, and the board is urging their workers to maintain strict neutrality from fear of injuring the board's work in India through favor of England. A special meeting of the Presbyterian executive commission, which is the church itself in action between annual general assemblies, has been called to meet at Atlantic City September 30 and October 1, and with it the exeseason at 6:45.

There will be no evening preaching service during September.

The First Congregational church extends to all the citizens of La Crosse, new and old, who have no other church home, a cordial invitation to make this church their home.

West Ave. Nor. Lutheran

West Avenue Norwegian Lutheran church, corner West Avenue and Division streets, Rev. R. Anderson, pastor. Services Sunday morning at 10:30. Rev. John Hellestvedt will officiate. The Sunday school will be held at 12:00 o'clock, after being closed during July and August. All members and friends asked to be present. ## West Avenue M. E. Church

You will find a cordial welcome at all these services.

Scandinavian Tent Service

Scandinavian tent meetings. Gospel services under the auspices of the Norwegian Evangelical Free church will be held in the tent, corner of Jackson and Fourteenth streets, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and evening at 8 o'clock. Special singing will be provided at all these services.

Executive committees of all Presbyterian societies. Here is to be determined the policy for the future. Besides the $292,000 foreign debt there is one of $138,000 for the home board, and a good part of $300,000 for the China campaign. The proposed advance work in Mexico is reported at a standstill. There are no Presbyterian missionaries in that country, and none are to go until further notice. The Atlantic City conference is to determine the plans for the big debt raising campaign, and whether Presbyterians will be able, with all of their own burdens, to help work whose sources of supply are cut off by war.

Lesson From a Flower.

I saw a delicate flower had grown up two feet high between the horses' path and the wheel-track. One inch more to right or left had sealed its fate, or an inch higher, and wet it lived to flourish as much as if it had a thousand acres of untrodden space around it, and never knew the danger it incurred. It did not borrow trouble, and invite an evil fate by apprehending it.—Thoreau.

Admiral Sir David Beatty, Britain's New Hero

Admiral Sir David Beatty is Great Britain's new hero. He has shown what the fleet in which England has so much pride could do when it met the enemy. The admiral was in charge of the squadron of battle cruisers, consisting of the Lion, the Princess Royal, Queen Mary and others which encountered a German fleet not far from Heligoland and sank three cruisers and it was said a dozen smaller craft. He is only forty-three years of age, and has been advanced very rapidly through the navy. Most British admirals are well over fifty years of age. Beatty married a daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago thirteen years ago. As a result he has been popular with Americans in London and has many friends in the United States. The photograph here shows him recently leaving a reception given by Queen Dowager Alexandra.

CHURCH NEWS

Christian Leaders Plan Busy Fall

Christian leaders take a hopeful view of the outlook, and plan one of the busiest of fall campaigns. For a time it was feared that many missionary secretaries, prominent clergymen and lay workers would be detained in Europe until too late to plan autumn work, but it is now known that practically all will have returned by September 15. The American board, the famous Congregational foreign society, meets in Detroit October 13-16, and seeks to make it a vast rally of middle west missionary workers. The American Missionary association, supported by the same religious body, meets in Providence October 20-22, when New England home mission workers will be in force.

Atlanta is to have two big meetings in October, the one the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the other the international convention of the Disciples of Christ. This brotherhood is made up of young men in the Episcopal church, and special trains have been chartered both from Chicago and Washington. Episcopal parishes in the whole south are making big preparations. Disciples will gather in great numbers at the same place, this time a mass convention, but paying the way for a delegate one a few years hence. The Luther league, young people of both sexes in all bodies of Lutherans, meet at Baltimore. The Laymen's Missionary movement plans a series of city conventions, and the Missionary Education movement enters in October upon a series of meetings and studies that is to cover two years.

Jews Asked to Aid In Work of Zionism

Jews of America who believe in Zionism, and all others who can be induced to believe in it, are asked to give $10,000 immediately to maintain Zionist work in Palestine. Practically this entire work in what the Christian calls the Holy Land has till now been carried on by the Zionist central bureau in Berlin, and has been supported by Jews of Russia, Austria and Germany. The central bureau has been discontinued because of the war. Support from Europe has stopped and so American Zionists appeal to American Jews for the continuance of the Zionist work in Palestine.

Zionism is not, as sometimes represented, an effort to induce Jews to withdraw from the rest of the world and to make a political state in Palestine. It is a movement to induce poor and persecuted Jews, a great part from Russia, to migrate to Palestine, and to do so in part at the expense of well to do Jews in this and other countries. Historic considerations, an open territory, a political opportunity argue in favor of the plan. Public schools, educational institutions, hospitals, land bureaus, trolley lines and good roads have been built up. Jews are found to make excellent farmers and already there are 14,000 of them in the agricultural field. There are 100,000 Jews in Palestine at present. A Zionist state is coming into existence.

Louis D. Brandeis of Boston; Nathan D. Kaplan of Chicago; Dr. Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore; Joseph Barondess, Rev. Drs. Stephen S. Wise and J. L. Magnes of New York, and others have been named on a provisional committee to do the work of the central bureau. This committee states that not only must Jewish institutions in Palestine be supported, and that Americans must come forward to meet the present crisis, but that the war concluded, Palestine must be open and ready for penniless Jews who are sure to exist in great numbers because of the war. About $25,000 of the $100,000 has been subscribed within the past week and it is hoped to have the entire amount within two months.

Churches in England

Busy Through War.
Christian England is awake to war needs. Established church, Free church, Catholic church, all are active. There is a degree of unity of effort, work not dogma or hierarchy, such as never before obtained. Foremost preachers of London and provincial cities are in their pulpits and crowded congregations are the rule. St. Paul's cathedral, London, the Methodist headquarters, Westminster, City temple and other places are scenes of great noonday prayer meetings on week days. Bible and missionary societies, Christian associations and Church and Salvation armies are at work as they never worked before.

England has organized for Christian work to an extent unknown in America as yet. These own vessels for colportage work, and these vessels have been handed over for work among navy enlisted men. She has a mission to the hop pickers, and this being hop picking time, its missionaries are in the fields helping pickers, at noon and night time, pray and work for soldier relief and welfare. England has even a mission to the fish mongers, and these are at work-on war relief lines. The king and the queen have led and a fund already more than $5,000,000 has been raised for Christian work. Farewell meetings for members of bible classes have been held in great numbers. Leading is the Soldiers' Christian association, which has appealed for $45,000 and has received most of it. There is an Army Scripture Readers' association, and aided by the British and Foreign Bible society it has distributed New Testaments to men going to the front by the thousands. Its first order gave out Testaments that cost $25,000, a fact which gives some idea of the number and activity.

Wit of Sages, Folly of Clown.

Stolen Gems from Humor's Crown.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph: A humorist was looking through a mill and while in an unguarded moment he was perpetrating one of his jokes upon an innocent operative, he was drawn into some ponderous gearing and badly crushed.

They extricated him from the machinery and laid him on the floor. "Who is it? Who is it?" was the anxious inquiry, as a crowd collected.

Nobody knew. Then the funny man suddenly opened his eyes and strove to speak. Sympathetic bystanders bent down to catch his words.

"There's a good reason why nobody recognizes me," he whispered painfully.

"What is it?" asked the sympathetic one. "Because," the humorist explained, as he saw a chance to get one home, "it's because I've been traveling in-cog."

That was his final effort, for he never spoke again.

The Mistake.

"Pleasant A. Stovall, our minister to Switzerland, dined with me at the Kuhn in St. Moritz during my tour through the Engadine," said a Chicagoan.

"I gazed Mr. Stovall on his mistake in inviting the Swiss navy to take part in the 'Frisco fair—for Switzerland, a completely inland country, has, of course, no navy—but Mr. Stovall said the error, great as it was, had not been his."

"But what an error! He said the poor duffer in Washington who committed it must now feel as badly as the American in the restaurant in Tientsin."

"An American in a Tientsin restaurant, he explained, ate a glorious meal—steamed rice, black sauce, jock-o-mal, gish-y-main—a glorious meal, and the best of it was a ragout of mushrooms, ham, tiny onions, new potatoes, and a very dark, rich, tender, succulent and fine-grained meat."

"The American ate about a quart and a pint of this ragout; then, by way of pantomime compliment he smacked his lips, rolled his eyes, and said to his Chinese host:

"Quack, quack!" "The Chinaman smiled and shook his head. "Bow, wow," he said."

Bishop Boyd Carpenter, formerly of Ripon, and now canon of Westminster, on one occasion was to officiate at a fashionable West End wedding. As usual, a great crowd of people stood outside the church doors. Magnificent carriages and motor cars stood up with the splendidly dressed guests, and at the end of a long string of fine equipages came a ramshackle old four-wheeler. A couple of policemen dashed at the caddy. "Here, hit!" they shouted. "You can't stop here. The bishop's just coming." "Keep your 'air on," retorted caddy, "I've got the old duffer inside."

ACCEPT SPEER REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The house judiciary committee today ordered a favorable report on the findings of the Webb sub-committee, regarding the charges brought against Judge Emory Speer of the southern district of Georgia. The sub-committee, reported that while Judge Speer was subject to criticism, there was not sufficient grounds for impeachment.

 IS LOOKING WORRIED

Mrs. John McGraw.

The haggard look which has lately been seen on the face of Manager Muggsy McGraw must be catching. His wife has it now. This picture was taken before Muggsy's leadership in the National league was threatened, and so shows few lines of care. No person following baseball is more interested in the fate of the Giants than the wife of the Gotham leader.

Young Men

Begin to build a standing against the day when you may embark in business for yourself.

Marshall Field as a clerk carried a checking account and paid even his board by check. When he bought an interest in the Leiter store, he had become so well known to the officers of the then largest bank in Chicago that he was able to borrow what he lacked to complete the deal. When Mr. Field died he owned a controlling interest in that bank.

To prevent window blind cords breaking, dust the cords and then rub them over with a well-greased rag. The snapping is caused by friction, which impoverishes the cords, and they are further weakened by the sun and weather.

CITY TEAMS IN SECOND CLASH

Nelsons and Eagles Meet Tomorrow in Second Game of the City Championship Series

With the umpire's call of "Play ball" tomorrow, the Nelsons and the Eagles, contenders for the championship of the city, will clash in their second battle at League park. The Eagles, who have a win over the Nelsons to their credit, are confident of winning tomorrow's game. Big Bill Saubert for the Eagles and Jim Squires for the Nelsons will probably take the mount. Both have no-hit games to their credit this year over the same team, Houston. Squires at Houston with the Eagles, held the Minnesotans to narry the sign of even a scratch. A win for the Eagles will mean the capture by them of the series, whereas a win by the Nelsons will tie up the series and necessitate the playing of another game.

BOXERS TRAIN HARD

CROSS AND TILLMAN WORK LATE HOURS IN PREPARATION FOR HUDSON BOUT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special).—Leach Cross and John Tillman are putting in the hardest sort of work in training for their ten round argument of Monday night at Hudson. Cross worked out at Wood's gymnasium in St. Paul yesterday, while Tillman went through his calisthenics at Cooke's.

Interest in the bout is running high. Cross has made quite a favorable impression by his gymnasium showing and it seems certain that there will not be any repetition of the fiasco of Monday night.

The preliminary bouts as announced yesterday have not made any particular hit in Minneapolis. While they may prove to be highly interesting fights, there is not a great deal of class shown in the selections. The attraction of top boxers like Tillman and Cross is evidently expected to carry the card and will probably do so, although anything like a quick knockout or a fiasco of any sort in the main event would deal Hudson boxing such a blow that recovery would be a very long and doubtful process.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

Backed by the terrific hitting of Larry Doyle, who walloped the ball for three singles and a double, Marty O'Toole scored a victory in his first trip out in a New York uniform. Brooklyn was the victim.

The Athletics dropped their third straight game in two days to the Red Sox, falling before the masterly twirling of Collins.

Early Hamilton passed Ty Cobb twice purposely and each time Wahoo Sam Crawford smashed out a hit and the Browns lost.

Jim Shaw not only shut out the Yanks and helped to manufacture the only run of the game but he hung up a strikeout record for the season, whiffing fourteen.

A wild throw by Jimmy Esmond allowed the Chifeds to nose out the Hoosiers in the tenth inning.

MERCHANTS OF NEW YORK BID FOR THE ARMY-NAVY GAME

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Merchants' association through President William A. Marble today mixed in the argument as to the site for the Army-Navy football game this fall, in a letter addressed to Secretary Daniels, of the navy, and Secretary of War Garrison. In his letter Marble pointed out the advantages of having the game played in New York declaring that 11,000 more persons could be comfortably seated at the Polo grounds than at Shibe park. Philadelphia, while transportation and other questions were discussed at length.

Red flannel undershirts have gone out of style among the more particular dressers.

RIGHT after the World's Fair in '93, Tom Moore made his first trip to the cigar stands.

In all the years since, his quality has never changed. Today he has the same mellow blend, the same long filler, the same silky Sumatra wrapper.
